Grange Deputies & Pomona Masters Gather In Yakima

Washington State Grange Deputies and Pomona Grange Masters gathered for their annual conference in Yakima on March 16-17.

The conference began with a potluck dinner, hosted by Tieton Grange and Yakima Pomona Grange. Following dinner, the deputies and Pomona Masters participated in the exemplification of the first four degrees of the order. Prior to the conference, participants were divided into two teams: one to exemplify the first and second degrees and one to exemplify the third and fourth degrees. Participants were notified of their role in advance of the conference, so they could review their part. We were pleased to have a total of nine candidates, representing Tieton, Lower Naches, and Fruitvale Granges.

Conference attendees gathered the following morning at the Fruitvale Grange Hall for a series of workshops. Following a brief orientation and discussion on timely topics, State Grange Master Tom Gwin led the group through a workshop on communications and the need for our Granges and Grange members to communicate clearly and work toward preventing any miscommunications.

Cowlitz County Deputy Rex Ogden presented a workshop on basic parliamentary procedure. He conducted a discussion and led the group through the process of making motions and amending the motions.

Prior to lunch, the group had an excellent discussion on Grange Finances and Cash Handling Procedures. Samples of balance sheets for fundraising events and guidelines for cash handling were distributed to all present.

Consider Holding A Grange Memorial Service This Spring

Pam Matthews

By Pam Matthews
State Grange Chaplain

I would like to encourage you to hold a memorial service in your Grange this spring. Included in the Lecturer packets, is a memorial service. This service is a suggestion only, use all or part of it or do something else entirely. All I ask is that your Grange have a memorial service, in the spring, to remember those brothers and sisters who have passed on in the preceding twelve months. A copy of the memorial service can also be found on the state Grange website.

I would also like to remind you if your Grange has any members who were Deputies, State Officers, District Directors, or their spouses, who have died this last year, to let me know as soon as possible so I may write a special tribute for these members for the annual memorial service at the state Grange convention.

If you have any questions, comments, or have a report to make, please phone or email me at 360-352-7043 or mathewstwin@hotmail.com and please be sure to put "Grange" in the subject line please.

Eye On Membership

Grange Month: Set The Stage For Growth And Showcase Your Grange

John Hamilton

John Hamilton
Membership Director

Grange month has arrived and what better opportunity to open our halls to our neighbors and community. A perfect chance to showcase our Grange and by doing so we set the stage for growth in the way of new members, public interest and fresh ideas.

One way to promote our Grange is to inform our county commissioners about our Grange month celebration and invite them to acknowledge the proclamation publicly. By the signing of the proclamation press release and publishing it in our local newspapers we place our presence in the public eye and share our history and purpose. The press release is available online at www.nationalgrange.org. Be sure to allow plenty of time to process the release as public meeting dates vary as well as newspaper publication deadlines. Also, feel free to use social media for publicly proclaiming Grange month. How about your Grange Facebook page? Place your invitation for your open house where the public can view it easily and respond.

Have you Grange placed your Grange month display in the public view and does it clearly state your address, contact information, meeting dates and times? If you are holding an open house, place the time and date in clear sight. Think about sending out invitations to your city officials, your Mayor, Fire Department and Police and Sheriff. Invite your School Board and other community volunteers. This would be a good time to present a special recognition to your Granges Outstanding Achievement Award recipient or a Police Officer, Fireman or Teacher.

As you showcase your Grange be sure to share our Grange ENERGY! Have cheerful greeters with name tags on available to welcome visitors. Have plenty of new membership applications available. Hang that bright colorful banner which represents who we are. Be ready to answer those unexpected questions that may arise. A few questions I am asked regularly include; "Are there any requirements to join?" "Do I need to be a farmer?" "What does it cost to join?" "Is there a program for children?" "What do you do?" Research and be prepared.

Having current literature explaining our Junior, Youth and departmental programs on hand will surely invite conversation and the possibility of new memberships. Sharing our legislative handbook will inform the public of the issues we support as a legislative voice. Displaying your community service notebook, family living notebook, Grange hall improvement notebook or other fun activities captured in photos will bring your Grange to life for others to see. Also, How about a sign in sheet requesting visitor contact information to enable a follow up telephone call or note. Finally let's not forget a very important part, FUN! By making it a fun event for all ages you will be guaranteed that those who attend your open house will surely return. And don't forget your sunglasses; no doubt the Grange energy will surely be BRIGHT!

Grange: A Politically Active, But Nonpartisan Organization

By Tom Gwin
State Grange
Master/President

The next few months will generate a great deal of interest in our governmental elections. Filing will take place in June for a wide variety of political offices, from U.S. Congress to precinct committee officers. With many retirements in the State Senate and House of Representatives, we can expect candidates to come out of the woodwork.

Throw in the fact that our country is divided to the far left and far right, with so few candidates taking a moderate approach, we have the makings of a political firestorm at our doorstep. We should expect another nasty election with accusations, smear campaigns, and other questionable tactics that will make this an election to remember.

As always, we hope our membership will take the opportunity to learn as much as we can about the candidates and their stance on the issues. We must, however, keep politics out of our Grange and our Grange out of politics.

The Grange is a politically active, but non-partisan organization. As a Grange, we get involved on issues, but do not support candidates of any party for political offices. Our organization was founded on this principle, and we remain committed to being a non-partisan organization.

Earlier this month, I noticed an event on a Grange facebook page advertising a town hall event with a candidate for the US Congress. The advertising of this event on the Grange facebook page could be interpreted to be an endorsement of the candidate, which is against our organization's principles.

As a Grange, we get involved on issues, but do not support candidates of any party for political offices. Our organization was founded on this principle, and we remain committed to being a non-partisan organization.

-- Tom Gwin

With this in mind, I requested the event listing to be removed immediately from the Grange's facebook page.

Regarding partisan politics, here are some of the basic guidelines we use to remain non-partisan:

- Grange halls may be used by political candidates for their events. Full rental rates must apply.
- The Grange cannot host

an event for a candidate for a political office.

- We encourage Granges to hold candidate forums. All candidates for an office must be invited to participate.

- While individual Grange members may support a candidate, the Grange itself cannot endorse or support a specific candidate for political office.

- As a State Grange, we ask elected officials to speak at our convention, but not candidates for political office. This sometimes is difficult in election years.

- The Grange, as a whole, may not contribute time, finances, or services to a candidate for political office.

- The Grange name and emblem may not appear on brochures, flyers, social media, etc. for any candidate for political office.

By keeping these guidelines in mind, we will continue to be active in the political arena, but also remain a non-partisan organization that works to educate the voters on the issues. My best wishes to you as we work together for the betterment of our communities, towns, cities, state, and nation.

Legislative

2018 Legislative Session Officially Ends

Heather Hansen

By Heather Hansen
Legislative Lobbyist

The 2018 legislative session ended on time on March 8. The most important news might be what did not pass. Both the capital gains tax proposal and the carbon tax bill died in the last days of session. Immediately upon the death of the carbon tax bill, a coalition of tribal, labor and environmental groups filed a petition for a citizen's initiative to create a carbon fee. The fee would add an estimated 14 cents to the cost of a gallon of gasoline. The groups supporting the initiative have until July 6 to gather 260,000 signatures to qualify the measure for the November ballot.

Sadly, the bill that would have allowed the Fair Fund to increase for the first time in 20 years died. On the bright side, the bill updating the law that governs how the Fair Fund is used passed and is headed to the Governor for signature.

A bill of concern to agriculture, E2SSB 6529 creates a pesticide safety work group which must report back to the legislature with recommendations for legislation for next year. The focus is primarily on applications made via air and airblast sprayers. The group, which is made up of legislators and state agencies, will meet over summer.

After the passage, and veto of a bill that partially exempted the legislature from the public disclosure act, the senate facilities and operations committee and the house of representatives executive rules committee were directed to convene a task force to propose standards for maintaining and disclosing public records for the legislative branch of government.

As always, the operating budget provides interesting insights into how your tax dollars are being spent.

$3,897,000 was provided for the Department of Ecology to implement ESSB 6091, the Hirst fix, dealing with water availability. These funds are to cover the costs of watershed planning, a metering pilot project, a joint legislative task force, and preparation of a programmatic environmental impact statement. An additional $20,000 was provided to the Department of Agriculture.

$625,000 was provided to the Department of Ecology for water rights compliance and enforcement staff to address water use in violation of state water resources laws, including technical assistance, informal enforcement, and formal enforcement actions.

$80,000 was provided to the Department of Agriculture to provide to the sheriff's departments of Ferry and Stevens counties to cooperate with the department and the department of fish and wildlife on wolf management activities.

$525,000 was provided to the Department of Fish And Wildlife for training for a work unit to engage and empower stakeholders in decisions about fish and wildlife, and the continued conflict transformation with the wolf advisory group, and for cost share partnerships with livestock owners and the use of range riders to reduce the potential for depredation of livestock from wolves.

$1,690,000 was provided to the Department of Natural Resources to increase fire response capability, including upgrading information technology systems and equipment for wildfire and forest health data, training department and fire service personnel, adding fire management staff, and replacing aviation fuel trucks and fire engines.

$198,000 was provided to the Department of Natural Resources for weed control and to maintain public access at seventeen sites.

Crescent Grange: Hoping For The Best; Preparing For The Worst

It's coming! It's definitely coming! Unfortunately, the experts don't know exactly when or where, but they do know that the Cascadia Fault is waiting to strike and those living along the Washington Coastline had better be prepared.

The small town of Joyce, population 3,500, on the Olympic Peninsula, is situated between two disaster areas. The Elwha Bridge going east on Hwy 112 and the slide area to the west. Should these events happen during an earthquake, the town would be totally isolated until emergency services got through to the residents. This could take up to thirty (30) days and the community needs to be self-sufficient. It was with this scenario in mind that JEPP. Joyce Emergency Planning and Preparation, came into existence.

Spearheaded by the Clallam County Fire District #4 and members of Crescent Grange #1123, the plan covers emergency food supplies for 300 people for 3 weeks, medical needs and evacuation supplies. Crescent Grange hall, together with the gymnasiums of Crescent High School and Joyce Bible Church will serve as evacuation shelters.

As the committee began to set down their plans, larger and more sophisticated cities said it couldn't be done by such a small rural group. Many have lived to eat these words as JEPP is now a shining model of earthquake preparedness with interest from Seattle King Television Station #5 and the BBC (British Broadcasting Corporation). King TV Station #5 aired a program on JEPP and the BBC sent a crew from their Washington DC Bureau to film the story of how the little town of Joyce is now better prepared than most of the major cities along the Cascadia Fault line.

The Joyce Emergency Planning and Preparation Program continues to evolve. The committee is sending speakers to groups and towns around the Peninsula explaining what needs to be done to survive an earthquake of the magnitude of the Cascadia Fault. Their programs include "Camping in Your House" and "30 Days on Own". Being prepared means having (a) a "pick up and go" bag in your home and car; (b) a communication system set up with the family and (c) food and water for at least 2 weeks.

Resolution Writing Tips

Resolutions are not hard to write!

One of the real benefits of membership in the Grange is the opportunity that membership gives to every Grange member to have an effective voice regarding the issues that affect their lives. Each of the National and Washington State Grange policy positions all started as resolutions that were written and adopted by a local Grange chapter.

Even so, some people are still intimidated at the idea of writing a Grange resolution.

As the State Grange is scheduled to hold its Annual Convention this June, we hope it will help generate greater interest in grass-roots participation in our Grange legislative program. The postmarked deadline for submission of resolutions from Subordinate and Pomona Granges is May 28.

Here is a quick and easy overview of writing a resolution:

Title of Your Resolution Here (This should be just a few words and easily summarize what the resolution is about)

Whereas, this is where you identify one problem that needs to be addressed or solved; and

Whereas, only place one reason or fact that supports your argument in each whereas paragraph; and

Whereas, only put facts in the whereas paragraphs that make it easier for the reader to understand the purpose of your resolution; Therefore, be it

Resolved, that this is where you clearly state the primary action that you propose to solve the problem you identified in the whereas paragraphs (Resolved should stand alone from the Whereas' as this will be the policy printed in the Legislative Handbook. No information from the Whereas' will be printed in the handbook), and

Be it Further Resolved, that any secondary actions to address the problem are placed here.

Be sure to include both the Master and Secretary signatures, Grange seal, contact information and any supporting materials.

Mt. View Grange Presents Historical Display

Pat Sajdak, Secretary of Mt. View Grange provided their display, pictured top right. On the wall behind her display is a picture of a red barn; that picture illustrates the resourcefulness of early Grangers. In 1893, Mountain View Grange, located on a picturesque bluff above the Columbia River was scheduled to host the fifth annual Washington State Grange Session. The local planning committee realized that neither the local school or the church would be big enough to accommodate this state meeting. Being a creative group they contacted A.H. Jewett who had recently built a new barn with an extremely large hay loft that overlooked White Salmon. After a quickly assessing the building with A.H. Jewett it was decided to hold the Grange Session in the loft of his new barn. Mt. View Grange added several windows and a new stairway to the loft. During the Grange Session, the barn was decorated with wreaths and flowers, and the 1893 State Session ended a complete success.

Today, a painting of that Red Barn occupies a place of honor in the Mountain View Grange Hall.

Farmers Tool Box Series at Goldendale Grange

An enthusiastic standing room only crowd gathered Sunday evening, February 11, at the Goldendale Grange Hall for the first in a series of Environmental Educational Workshops sponsored by Goldendale Grange #49, Klickitat Valley Health and Goldendale Suicide Awareness /Prevention Coalition.

Wayne Pearson, SGS Dryland Crop Advisor started the evenings activities off with a discussion on soil acidity, an issue that is eventually going to affect every person in Klickitat County whether you raise three tomato plants in your back yard or a dryland farmer raising hundreds of acres of wheat. Soil Ph is very complex issue that can be mitigated, although the fix is costly and needs to be formulated on an individual basis.

During Wayne's remarks the Grange ladies were busy carving the roast beef and dishing up the hot chocolate brownies and ice cream, for a much larger crowd than expected. The aroma of the expectant free dinner permeated the hall during the opening remarks.

Michael Garnett, Goldendale M.D. provided a lively discussion fittingly presented during the meal on "New Ideas in Health," and "How Today's Eating Habits are Effecting Our Daily Lives,".

Dr. Mary Schroeder, Goldendale High School Counselor and Multicultural Consultant followed up on Dr. Garnett's comments with what she sees daily within our schools and explained the Risk Factors and Warning signs that lead to teen suicide. She stressed that suicide is becoming more common place in our society and everyone needs to be able to recognize the warning signs.

The evening closed with a discussion about the impact of the "Hirst Decision" on our local water rights with Dave McClure, Klickitat County Environmental Director.

The evening was tremendously successful, closed on time in the allotted two hours and plans are already underway for the next segment of the series.

Grange Connection

Mountain View Grange Gets A New Floor

Mountain View Grange #98 in White Salmon, WA has become the unofficial home of the Secret Salsa Society, an all-volunteer group that promotes mostly Latin dancing. The group holds weekly social dances at the Grange. For some years Jeanne and Eric Pelton were the volunteers who kept the Wednesday night doors open.

Jeanne and Eric were seen all over the Gorge at various dance events. Their support of local musicians and dance venues was unwavering, and they became known as the Gorge's favorite dance couple. Eric felt that the Grange needed a new dance floor. He talked about the splinters that were known to sneak out from worn areas and attack feet. The floor had been repaired several times with floor boards taken from closets. In many areas it had been sanded so thin that nails were poking through. Eric's dream was to win the lottery and put in a new floor and do other repairs to the Grange. In April of 2016, our dear friend Eric passed away unexpectedly. The dance community reeled from the loss, but his loving wife Jeanne was going to make sure his memory and big heartedness lived on.

Donations from Eric's memorial service started the "Floor Fund" and adding to that the "Fund Me Site". Jeanne didn't stop there she arranged a silent auction which was held in December of 2016. Jeanne single-handedly went to local establishments gathering a multitude of auction items. She enlisted the help of a local band to provide the entertainment. All proceeds went to the floor fund. The event was a huge success attended by more than 125 people. It was overseen by Master Dan McBride who presented appreciation awards to Board Members Pat Sajdak and Ruth Olin for their contributions of "time, talent and friendly deeds". Over $6,000 was added to the fund, bringing the grand total to $9,360.

One thing led to another and, thanks to Eric's dream, the project grew. Friends and members helped this effort. Aaron Hanson and crew at Hood River Painting painted the hall. Grange members Amanda Kitchings, Ruth Olin, Pat Sajdak, Mike Guthrie and Bill Hoffer patched, painted and installed trim, while Bruce Bolme did electrical work. Ron Krause and team laid the 1600 square foot floor in one weekend. Twinkly lights were the final touch. It was time to dedicate the floor in Eric's name; to thank Jeanne Pelton for her commitment and hard work, and to thank the Community that made it all possible. On October 21, the dedication took place. The band, Center Street, played to a large receptive and grateful audience, which had no problem breaking in the new floor.

Pat Sajdak presented the plaque to Jeanne and the Pelton family from Mountain View Grange #98. It is now proudly displayed in the case in the main hall for the world to see, and the Eric Pelton Memorial Floor is a reality for all to enjoy. Thank you Eric! Dreams really do come true!

Summer Is Coming ... And That Means Fair Time

By Marvin & Jennifer Oliver
Junior Grange Directors

Summer is coming and that means fairs will soon be here. If your Junior Grange participates in putting a booth in a fair, why not take the opportunity to enter the Junior Grange Fair Booth contest.

Any theme can be used. The booths should be done entirely by the children with adult supervision only. The booth should tell a Junior Grange story or it can follow the fairs theme. The booth must show the name of the Junior Grange, eligible age for Junior Grange membership and local contact information. Entries are due to the State Director post marked by October 31st. Cash awards to top three. Ribbons and certificates will be awarded to all entries at the Washington state Grange convention.

Let's not forget how important and fun it is for the Junior Grangers to participate in the District talent show. There are four district contests to be held on Sunday, April 22, 2018 at 2 pm. 1. Eastern District at Fort Colville Grange Hall in Stevens County. 2. Northwest District: McMillin Grange Hall in Pierce County 3. Central District at St. Andrews Grange Hall, in Douglas County. 4. Southwest District at Newaukum Grange Hall in Lewis County.

Marvin & Jennifer Oliver

Participation in the talent contest allows for the Junior Granger to get practice and positive feedback and to gain confidence to perform at the State Convention during the Junior program. All junior performers who perform at district will be eligible to perform at state convention during the Junior Grange program on Saturday.

For details for all the Junior Grange Contests see the Washington State Grange program guide starting on pages 13-16.

Humptulips Junior Grangers are planning a spring retreat for April 27-29 at Morehead Park. We have worked out the menu. Our activities for the weekend will include sewing, dehydrating, photography, crafts, and a beach nature hike. Junior Grangers will be helping with the Grange auction on April 7 by donating items and helping to show the auction items. Two gift baskets were donated to the Pomona Basket Bingo event in March.

San Poil Junior

San Poil Juniors met recently to work on their upcoming Community Service projects. They placed a book collection box at the local market and have set their goal at 100 books. Their next meeting is March 26th after school.

CFLs: Encourage, Empower and Educate Our Members

By Cecelia Hamilton
Family Living Director

Family Living Contests are underway and I am witnessing great things! I appreciate all of your hard work and dedication. There have been many awesome workshops held in preparation of our contests as well because of them! The energy that comes from seeing all of the delicious baked goods and preserved foods is amazing and infectious. It's vital we continue to share and teach these necessary life skills. The many beautiful quilts, apparel and needlework being entered are amazing!

Thank you all for sharing your years' activities and for allowing me to hear about your areas of concern and progress through your yearend reports. Keep them coming! We are always open to suggestions for our program. Please contact me with any ideas or concerns that you may have.

Leadership conferences are done, and it was great seeing the Grangers in attendance. However, I do have some serious concerns in regards to our Family Living program representation. We need to work together to grow our program by encouraging others to step up to the plate to take on the office of CFL within our Subordinate and Pomona Granges. I ask myself why would a Grange not have a Family Living Chairperson? Is it due to the lack of members? That can be resolved by more than one Granger sharing the task or by recruiting new members. Or do we feel we don't need the program? The voice of Grangers over the years has proven that remark to be unacceptable. Maybe it's that we aren't sure of just what a CFL does. I choose to believe it to be the latter suggestion accompanied by the possible fear of commitment. I am going to briefly share my thoughts in hopes that I can encourage you to challenge your members to commit.

So, let's see, you already have a Granger that somehow loyally arrives in plenty of time to prepare your hall for meetings. They have coffee brewing and tables set. The lights are on, heat is going and yes even the pie is magically sliced. So, is this the sole job of a CFL? No, not necessarily, but we do happily take these tasks on with the help of others. So, what do we do? Our duties are simply that we are to share a current educational program monthly regarding family safety, health or nutrition. Also we are asked to promote our Pomona contests and to be advocates of community service. By doing these activities I would say that we hold a vital role in our Granges. If not as an addition to our Granges community service goals, how about the dedication to our member's and communities in regards to their health and well being? Life is great, spread the joy, and become involved today! ENCOURAGE, EMPOWER, and EDUCATE by your example.

In closing, with Grange month underway how has your Grange planned to celebrate? Have fun, open your doors to your community and share what we are all about! Be sure to advertise your upcoming Pomona Contests to your communities as well.

Community Service

Deadline Reminder: Community Service Reports Due April 15th

By Yvonne Knuth
Community Service Director

Community Service reports are starting to come in. Thank you to those that have already gotten them to me. Don't forget to write the class at the top of the report.

Is your Grange planning to turn in a community service notebook? If you haven't had a chance already, please read my "Tips for an Award-Winning Community Service Notebook" in the February addition of the Grange News, page 10. Also, be sure to put your Grange name, class and year on the cover.

Now that spring has officially arrived, we should all be focusing on projects that help our communities. These could include; creating a community garden or educational garden for 2nd and 3rd graders, place flags throughout the community or at your local cemeteries, hold a Farm City Dinner where both rural and city people come together, sponsor a local festival (bluegrass, jazz, or other local interests) or sponsor kids to attend Junior Grange Camp. Your Grange may also think about hosting a summer kids sewing camp or maybe a bicycle fair for the youth in your community or conduct a neighborhood block party. The list goes on and on, but you can see there is much we can be doing for our communities.

North River Grange Hosts Spelling Bee

On Tuesday, February 13, the North River Grange sponsored and conducted a Spelling Bee for students from grades 1-6 of North River School. We collaborated with Shiloh Bible Camp leadership, who graciously provided a warm environment, stage, sound equipment, and seating that made the competition possible. Grange members zealously decorated the room with banners and 'balloon bees,' adding a bright ambience to the spirit of competition.

There were a total of 37 students that attended from North River School. The Grange and School also opened the competition to homeschoolers in the area, though none attended.

This year, many of the students were competitive and studied assiduously, demonstrated by their mastery of the word lists, at times coming very close to exhausting all words from the grade level lists published by the 'Scripps National Spelling Bee - 2018'. Some grades were close to moving on to the next grade level!

We awarded the top three winners in each grade with Walmart gift cards and Certificates, and gave all participants, participation certificates. The Grange also provided Rice Krispie treats and juice for all participants, though some teachers and spectators may have also partaken of these sumptuous delights!

The winners of the Spelling Bee went on to Regionals, competing against three other schools in the Aberdeen, WA area. In this competition, the North River Community had one first place winner, a couple of second and third place winners and, overall, did very well in Regionals. We are thankful for all the helping hands in our community that aided in this successful Spelling Bee for all the students, and for all the hard-work and dedication the students put in to studying their words.

We look forward to working with our community again for the Spelling Bee next year. In the meantime, we are preparing for our annual community-wide spring plant and seed exchange, and look forward to active community participation in this event.

Celebration Of Grange Heritage In Klickitat County

More than seventy Grangers and friends from across the county crowded into Goldendale Grange Hall Sunday, March 11, for a celebration of Grange Heritage in Klickitat County. All seven, currently active Granges were present; Centerville #81, Columbia(Lyle) #87, Glenwood #94, Mountain View (White Salmon #98), Alder Creek #890, Trout Lake #210 and Goldendale #49. Although no longer active, Pleasant Valley #146, Woodbine #243, Dot #252, White Creek #1075 and Spring Creek Grange #162, were represented in the historical activities. Grange history dates back to the early 1890's when 34 Grange halls were established across the Klickitat County landscape. As roads and transportation improved these small local units consolidated into the Granges we have today.

Representatives from each participating local Grange provided a written history along with pictures and other artifacts depicting their long history. Klickitat County enjoys the distinction of having some of the oldest active Granges and lowest Grange numbers in the state.

It is interesting to note that four State Grange Conventions were held in Klickitat County, Goldendale 1891, White Salmon 1893, Lyle 1897 and Centerville in 1904. A note found in Columbia Grange Minutes states, "The 1894 Washington State Grange Session, was to be held in Vancouver, WA. Columbia Grange voted on and passed a motion to notify all Granges in Klickitat County that their teams of horses and wagons could be left at James Lyle's or John Olson's so that Grange members could take the river boat to the Vancouver Convention." Roads on the north side of the Columbia between Lyle and Vancouver had not yet been completed.

Klickitat County has been honored by several State Officers through the years; William Olson, from Lyle, WA, was one of the first. He was State Lecturer from 1897 – 1899. Records indicate he was the oldest surviving charter member of the State Grange in 1963 when he passed away. He had attended every session for 50 years until 1962 when failing health caused his absence. Locally he donated the land, the lumber and helped build the Columbia Grange Hall in 1889.

Ray Hill, a Goldendale native, was our last State officer, he was elected State Overseer in 1972 and became State Master in 1983. He came from a family with deep roots in the Grange. In 1956, Chester Hill, installed his son Ray as Master of Goldendale Grange, his granddaughter Lynn Hill as Juvenile Master; granddaughters Susan and Sandra and grandson Kenneth as officers of the Juvenile Grange and daughter-in-law Helen Hill as Lady Assistant Steward of the Goldendale Grange. This occurred in the same ceremony with Chester Hill's youngest son, Harold, Master of East Klickitat Pomona, acting as Installing Marshall.

In typical Grange fashion the day's festivities started with a generous pot luck style meal. One Grange member passing through the buffet line remarked, "this is what Grange is all about, lots of good food and good company." No celebration is complete without a cake. Cake decorator, Laney Johnson, provided that special cake again this year. Her chocolate raspberry cake was decorated to depict the seven-sided Grange symbol even including the sheaf of wheat.

Special thanks to Goldendale FFA advisor Josh Krieg and his FFA members for providing a display and marketing their metal art signs during the day. Grange members listened intently while JT Cahill recited the FFA Creed and FFA members Austin McKune, Grace Hanning, Delaney Kindler, Leslie Smith, Tiana Watson preformed the opening FFA ceremony. Good luck is offered these students in their future completion.

The remainder of the day was spent munching on desserts and telling Grange stories.

the Fruitvale Grange members, attendees participated in a teamwork workshop focused on creating displays for Grange Month. The participants were broken into six groups, with each group receiving a 3-part panel board. Each group also received a file with graphics and written descriptions of Grange milestones. Add in a variety of colored paper, markers, scissors, and double-sided tape for construction purposes. The result was six creative displays that could be used for placing in store windows for Grange Month. Following the creation of the displays, each group reviewed their achievement with the others and offered what they could have done to improve their own display. Each display was sent home to be placed in a business for the month of April.

The final workshop for the conference focused on the Grange Month survey distributed by the National Grange. Titled, "How Healthy Are Your Granges", we reviewed the surveys and the need to utilize the information on the survey in establishing where to prioritize State Grange personnel and resources in assisting Granges. Each Grange will be asked to complete the survey and to return it to the State Grange Office no later than April 15.

The Pomona Grange Masters and State Deputy Masters have met together for the past two years to work toward building a team to assist Granges across the state. The annual conference not only provides an opportunity to build a cohesive team, but also gives the State Grange Master the opportunity to provide the tools necessary to create a harmonious tone with a progressive attitude toward the future of the Washington State Grange and the subordinate and Pomona Granges across the state.
